Introduction

Calling all private practitioners... Have you ever wondered how to get more clients? Or how to manage all those professional dilemmas that come from working privately - taking money, doing accounts, marketing, having an online presence, finding therapy rooms, setting boundaries, contracting with clients etc? And have you ever asked yourself, how can I look after me in all this, and avoid the potential isolation of private practice? If any of these questions are yours then this seminar is for you.

In this morning master-class we will:

We will cover the following topics:

- best ethical practice
- marketing and websites
- money issues and cancellation policies
- room hire and safe working
- networking and self-care
-Plus, your own questions
